Good afternoon Tyler.

Thank you for the informative presentation this afternoon and thank you for listening to our concerns.

One thought I did have about an addition that I might like to make to my submitted comments is an example of how the engineering requirements can be redundant.

I would need to compile the information regarding this from information I have back at the office and would be happy to do so if you think it would help you meet the Governor's goals of streamlining the regulatory process.

Thank you.

Good morning.

My wife and I own and operate the Lazy River Mobile Retreat in Payette, Idaho.

I've attached a letter detailing our ongoing experience with a review of our water system at the park.

We believe that a thorough review of the administrative regulations is much needed.

I will be attending the meeting on May 11 and will be happy to respond to any questions you may have in person or via correspondence.

Thank you for your consideration.
